

National Republican.

100 COPIES OF THE "NATIONAL REPUBLICAN" can be obtained every morning at the following places:

WASHINGTON.

HISPO'S NEWS STAND, Willard's Hotel.

HARPER'S NEWS STAND, National Hotel.

CORCORAN'S NEWS STAND, Metropolitan Hotel.

WILSON'S NEWS STAND, Eighth House.

KIRKALL'S NEWS STAND, Sixteen House.

WILMING'S NEWS STAND, St. James Hotel.

E. GRISWOLD, News Dealer, 177½ Pennsylvania Avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets.

PARKER'S HOOD AND FURNITURE STORE, No. 456 Seventh street, opposite the Post Office.

THOMAS G. ASH, Stationer, southwest corner of Eighth and F streets.

W. D. H. MAJOR, at Gilbert's Dining Saloon, 30½ F Street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

John C. Barnes, No. 25½ F street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

John A. Rutherford, Stationer, 115½ F, near Thirteenth street.

JOSEPH SHILLINGTON, Stationer, corner of Four-and-a-half and Pennsylvania avenues.

W. H. & O. H. MORRISON, Booksellers and Stationers, 400 Pennsylvania Avenue, between Four-and-a-half and Sixth streets.

BURKE'S NEWS STAND, Kirkwood House.

PRINTER & CO., Stationers, 425 Fifteenth street, corner New York Avenue.

CHARLIE H. KIRKALL, Stationer, 446 Seventh street, between F and G streets.

JAMES BELLOW, Stationer, 436½ Seventh, between O and H.

S. G. S. BARROWS, Stationer, 278 Seventh street, between H and I streets.

JOHN A. RUTHERFORD, Stationer, 41 South Atlantic, between New Jersey Avenue and First street, Capitol Hill.

WILLIAM HARTLEY, Stationer, No. 6 east Capitol street, between Third and Fourth, east Capitol Hill.

WM. A. HERZON, 125 Bridge street.

ALEXANDRIA.

Geo. E. French, Bookseller and Stationer, 95 King street.

J. T. COX, News Dealer and Dollar Jewelry Store, 101 King street.

Late Foreign Intelligence.

At the cultural banquet at Sheehan's on Friday evening, the Foreign Minister of Ireland for the ensuing session of Parliament would be the settlement of the Irish land question.

He hoped the subject would be debated with as little political feeling as possible.

It has never been the desire of the people.

Men were comparatively unpreserved, and statesmen of various opinions showed an honest disposition to grapple with the difficulties surrounding this matter.

The discussion follows on Cardinal Cullen's last pastoral and on the claims put forth by the Roman Catholic Bishop of Ireland:

They demand the overthrow of commercial civilization, the conversion of denominationalism.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant. The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied. They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says the country is in a state of comparative stagnation.

The language of Archibald Calles must prove resonant.

The pretensions of the Catholic hierarchy toward the State are not to be denied.

They are not alone so violent on education which the people will not emphatically repudiate, and which, if brought before Parliament, will not be rejected.

The lesson of the last two years must be learned. The people must understand how a proposal of great moderation and acknowledged wisdom proved abortive last session through the professed antipathy of Parliament to satisfying the public mind on the subject.

The people's minds are about as hopeless as could be imagined.

England and Scotland will not listen to them. Even in Ireland they will not command the assent of the masses.

Interest in Ireland and England, and Ireland, they would be mentioned only to be condemned.

The Morning Post of Saturday says